

Leaflet Trademarks in Serbia

Duration

The period of protection of a registered trademark lasts 10 years counted from the date of filing the application for the registration of a trademark. The registration of a trademark may be renewed indefinite number of times, for periods of 10 years each.

Compulsory use

If, within a period of 5 years following the date of registration, the holder has not put his trademark into genuine use in Serbia in respect of the goods or services for which it is registered, or if such use has been suspended during an uninterrupted period of 5 years, then any third party can claim cancellation of the trademark.

Marking

Marking is not compulsory.
